They Compromised at Last

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were undecided what automobile they should buy. Mr. Jones wanted a Buick. But Mrs. Jones would have nothing but a Maxwell. They kept quarreling for months about it. At last they compromised the matter by going down to B. W. Hooker & Co.'s and selecting a nice Collapsible Go-Cart. It was the Wagner brand.

B. W. HOOKER & Co., Distributors for Barre.

Consider Your Baby's Comfort

When you take the little fellow out for a ride in the open air during the hot summer, don't make him ride in a cart that is stuffy and padded on all sides so that he will be hot and uncomfortable.

Get one of these cool, leather-lined collapsible carts that are handy for you and convenient for him. They don't take up much space—they are ball-bearing—move about easily—are graceful—attractive—and they work well anywhere.

The prices are remarkably low.

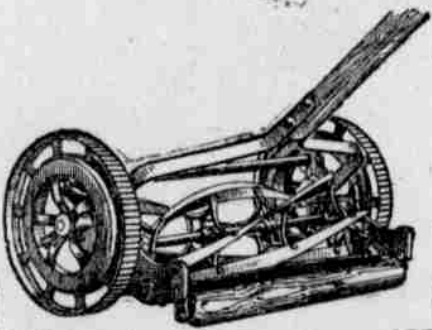

On Go-Carts at the present time, we have a nice stock—a stock not over forty-eight hours old—but on Baby Carriages we are sold out and have been for a month, although we doubled our last season's order. Should you prefer a Carriage to a Go-Cart, come in and see the F. A. Whitney Carriage Co.'s (the leader for fifty years) Photographs, order a Carriage, take thirty per cent off the list, and if the Carriage is not perfectly satisfactory you need not take it. That's fair, isn't it?

The feature act at the Pavilion for the last half of this week will be DeWitt and Stuart, introducing that inimitable comedian, Shorty DeWitt, who made thousands laugh during his theatrical season just closed in his impersonation of "Jeff." In Guss Hill's production of "Mutt and Jeff." During his engagement with the Mutt and Jeff Co., Mr. DeWitt played only the largest cities and to record-breaking business. His ten weeks at the Globe theatre, Boston, were the most profitable ten weeks that that theatre ever had. Shorty does not claim that the record-breaking business was due to his efforts alone, but he thinks he is entitled to some credit, as he was playing one of the principal parts in the show and scored heavily at every performance. Mae Hendricks, singing comedienne, will also be at the Pavilion during the last three days of this week. All of the pictures are good, one reel being a comedy with John Bunny in the leading comedy part, and also a reel in which Arthur Johnson is seen in a very strong dramatic part.

City Council Votes $65 Damages Caused by Berlin Pond.

A number of matters were settled at last night's meeting of the city council, but all were of minor importance. The bid of Contractor Bouchard for a concrete walk and curb in front of the city hall, to $110 a square yard of the walk and 45 cents a foot of the curbing, was accepted. It was voted to pay $65 in payment for damage caused on the Buck place at Berlin pond by water from the pond setting back into the moving. A former vote to expend $400 of state money on state roads on Elm street was reconsidered and it was voted to expend the money on the same street, but farther up. It is expected the state will allow $300 more to complete the work. Other votes carried were ordering E. C. Gitchell to clear up around his premises on lower State street; forbidding the dumping of rubbish in the river; ordering Street Superintendent Roberts to trim all trees which interfere with the use of the sidewalks; granting the use of the memorial room and auditorium of the city hall for the annual meeting of the Vermont State Medical society October 10, without charge.

Fred Terrill of Burlington has been called here by the serious illness of his brother, W. E. Terrill, with typhoid fever. Mr. Terrill remains about the same, being in a stupor part of the time.

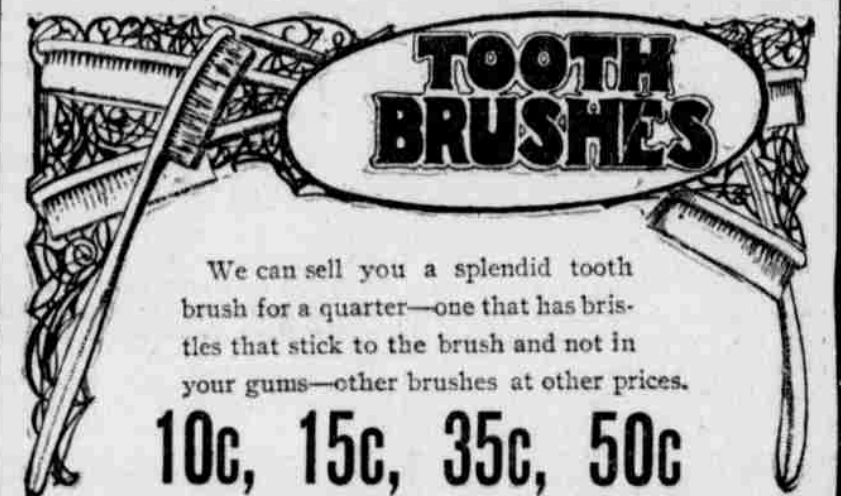

Fred Chester Dwinell and Ruth Estelle Pitkin, both of Marshfield, were married last evening by Dr. J. Edward Wright, at his residence.

F. S. Davis, state cattle commissioner and Dr. J. S. Whitney, veterinary, of this city killed a horse in Marshfield Tuesday, which was badly afflicted with glanders. The officers had been trying to locate the animal since spring.

The listers have filed with the city clerk a complete statement of the grand list, real and personal estate and the property valuation. This statement shows $1,080,244 claimed as offsets for debts owing. The personal property valuation, deducting the offsets, amounts to $1,803,904. The real estate amounts to $4,917,755. The two make an aggregate of $6,721,659. One per cent, of this together with the poll taxes gives a grand list of $713,298.59.
